As presented at the ADC10 Committee Business Meeting during the January 2009 TRB Annual Meeting in Washington, D.C., a total of 7 papers had been assigned to the ADC10 Committee for review. A total of 30 reviewers offered their expertise to review the papers submitted and provided helpful comments to the authors. As a result, three papers were recommended for presentation at the Annual Meeting in January, 2009. Those papers included the following:

Libby North Corridor Study: Implementation of Planning Assistance and Standards – Linking the Transportation Planning and National Environmental Policy Act Processes (09-0564)

Lynn Zanto, Montana Department of Transportation
Jean Riley, Montana Department of Transportation
Lani Kai Eggertsen-Goff, (corresponding), Parsons Brinckerhoff

Challenges and Outcomes of Scoping Implementation in National Environmental Policy Act Processes in Transportation Agencies (09-2928)

Carissa Schively Slotterback (corresponding), University of Minnesota

H. Christopher Frey (corresponding), North Carolina State University
P-Yao Kuo, North Carolina State University

Of the above three papers, only the Libby North Corridor Study was accepted for publication by TRB.

The ADC10 Committee’s Call for Papers for the upcoming TRB Annual Meeting in January 2010 was prepared and submitted to TRB on May 27, 2009 and was posted on the TRB website on June 12, 2009. All papers are required to be submitted by August 1, 2009. The Call for Papers was also sent out via email by Muggs Stoll to all ADC10 members and friends on June 29, 2009.

An online survey of potential ADC10 Committee Paper Reviewers was prepared to solicit information regarding those individuals who have interest in being a reviewer. The types of information requested include: contact information; years of experience; previous experience as a paper reviewer for both the ADC10 Committee and other committees; and specific areas of expertise in which he/she could effectively contribute as a reviewer. Muggs Stoll sent out the online survey link to all ADC10 members and friends on June 29, 2009 via email. It has been requested that all interested individuals return the completed questionnaire by July 24, 2009. As of the afternoon of July 10, a total of 40 completed questionnaires by interested individuals have been received.
